POWERS FEAR OUTRAGES BY TURKISH RABBLE

Elaborate Precautions Taken to Protect Foreigners—
Army of Hungry, Disease-Stricken Soldiers at the Gates of the City May Create Reign of Terror
Great Battle Raging Today Along the Tchatalja Fortifications.

Constantinople, Nov. 18.—The fate of Constantinople is being decided by a terrific battle which is raging over a battle line along the Tchatalja fortifications, while foreign marines are being placed about the embassies and consulates in this city for the protection of the lives of foreigners. A heavy artillery duel was kept up all night north of the city under the glare of torch lights.

General Savoff's Bulgarian infantry, which had behaved so gallantly, though ineffectually, in the face of galling Turkish fire Sunday, slept on its arms behind the artillery getting what sleep it could amidst the thunder of the guns. It was estimated that 500 heavy guns were in action. That the fall of Constantinople is at hand is indicated by the methods taken to protect foreigners. The powers fear outrages by the Turkish rabble fully as keenly, if not more so, than they do the result of invasion by a foreign foe. There is an army of hungry, ill-clad, disease-stricken soldiers at the gates of the city between the Tchatalja lines the city proper, and should it be allowed to enter there is grave danger of it.

In order to buoy up the hope of the Mussulman populace the government today issued a proclamation saying that Nazim Pasha, the commander-in-chief at the front, had reported a great victory over the left wing of General Savoff's Bulgarian army, which had tried to turn the eastern flank of the Turks.

Foreign residents doubted the reports of the Turkish minister of war that he had taken 8000 Bulgarians prisoners and had captured 12 bore cannon.

There is little doubt that the Bulgarians found the Tchatalja lines stronger than they anticipated. The Turks are fighting to the last ditch and are making the supreme effort to retain their foothold in Europe.

London, Nov. 18.—The first Bulgarian attack on the Turkish line of fortifications defending Constantinople at Tchatalja has failed. The whole of the Bulgarian army was engaged. Every available man was moved to the front from the Bulgarian forces investing Adrianople, where they were relieved by Serbian troops. The Bulgarians with all their artillery began their advance on the Tchatalja fortifications Saturday and continued the bombardment of the works throughout Sunday. They, however, found the Turkish positions so strong that they could make no impression on them and for the moment at least the attempt has been given up, the firing according to a dispatch from Constantinople ceasing this morning.

Belgrade, Nov. 18.—Fierce fighting for the possession of the Turkish fortress of Monastir continues between the Servians and the Greeks on the one side and the Turkish garrison on the other. The defenders of the city, knowing that their line of communication with Ochrida in which they would naturally retreat in case of defeat has been cut, are fighting desperately. During the first day's battle 250 of the men were killed and wounded.

her two sons. When the buggy was upset, Mrs. Handley was thrown very heavily to the ground and her left arm was broken at the elbow. Her sons were uninjured. Mrs. Handley was taken to the home of John Neighbour and Dr. Harry Postle was called to render surgical attention.

HAWTHORNE CASES
UP FOR HEARING

New York, Nov. 18.—The Federal government called for trial in the United States District court here today what it considers one of its most important cases, growing out of alleged misuse of the mails. It involves the integrity of the so-called Hawthorne group of mining stocks and brings to the bar as defendants men of national reputation.

GOV'T SUIT
SUSTAINED
BY JURISTS

Washington, Nov. 18.—The Supreme court of the United States today delivered a death blow at violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law under the cloak of the protection of the patent laws, by annulling, as invalid, license agreements which held manufacturers of sanitary enameled iron ware together in the combination known as the "bath tub trust." Justice McKenna said that rights conferred by patents did not give a universal license against the positive prohibition of the Sherman law.

FEDERAL COPS ARE AFTER MINYARD CO.

Cleveland, Nov. 18.—In a raid on the office of Harris G. Hastings & Co., today, Federal officials arrested F. D. Minyard, the manager on a charge of using the mail to defraud in connection with the operations of F. D. Minyard & Co., brokers of Cincinnati. The officers said the raid was to be simultaneous with that in other cities.

COMMITTEE
AT SUPPER
AT 6 P. M.

One hundred men and twenty young women have been called to attend the supper at the Plymouth Congregational church at six o'clock this evening, when plans for the Board of Trade's campaign for a $12,000 Young Women's Christian Association will be discussed, and the general committee subdivided for active work of the campaign. The ladies of the church have prepared an excellent luncheon for the occasion, and it is especially desirable that every man appointed to membership on the general committee, the names of whom were recently published in the Advocate, should be present. Upon their active interest in the project depends the success of the board of Trade in carrying out their plan to bring to the city an institution which, from every standpoint, is one of the best enterprises the city has ever considered—one that will contribute health and happiness to scores, if not hundreds, of young women.

The task of raising $12,000 will mean only a few hours work for each of the men on the committee, but by their efforts they will be giving to the girls of the city a place where they can maintain friendship as well as secure educational advantages, recreation and inspiration. Let every man be at the "arrangements supper" tonight.

It is understood that several social affairs are being planned for the Y. W. C. A. campaign. The young ladies of the Sylvia Bible class of the Plymouth Congregational church, are bringing to this city Miss Mary Jordan, a prominent soloist of New York City, whose recital at the High school auditorium on Thursday evening is expected to attract every music lover in the city. Miss Jordan has had extensive training, and has enjoyed some splendid positions in the singing of church music, besides receiving many flattering offers from grand opera companies. Seats for her performance are 50 cents each, and can be had from any of the city's club women, or purchased at either Hall's drug store or Edmiston's book store.

SLAYER OF NEELY

Independence, Kan., Nov. 18.—A. A. Truskett was acquitted Saturday night of the charge of murdering J. D. Neely, a Lima, O. oil promoter, and was held by the jury to have been insane at the time he shot and killed Neely. This was Truskett's fourth trial.

SHERBURNE

IN WOODPILE

Columbus, Nov. 18.—Representatives of the insurgent element among the 55,000 Ohio members of the Modern Woodmen of America met in Columbus today to organize, with the ultimate intention of ousting the present national officers and simplifying the organization, which furnishes fraternal insurance to 1,259,000 members.

"Within the past year rates have been increased between 50 and 100 per cent," declared T. H. Roberts of Cleveland, one of the Ohio revolt leaders.

"It is merely an attempt on the part of some to gain control of the organization for their private ends," said N. C. Sherburne of Newark, state deputy, who is the chief officer of the 421 camps in Ohio.

The insurgent movement is headed nationally by John L. Sundean of Minneapolis, who is in Columbus organizing the state forces.

FAMOUS LYCEUM LECTURER,
ADDRESSES MEN'S MEETING

With about one hundred and fifty men present, the Christian Men's Union held its first meeting of the season in the First M. E. church yesterday afternoon, and heard one of the most convincing and interesting discussions of the efficacy and desirability of prayer that has ever been offered in this city. The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Charles L. Seasholes, one of the foremost lyceum lecturers of the United States, and particularly interesting to Newarkites because of his attendance over twenty years ago, at Denison University, from which he graduated in 1889, with high honors in oratory. A man of powerful personality, aided by an extensive and well founded knowledge of the Scriptures, Dr. Seasholes gave to his audience a new vision of the great theme of "Prayer." He traced the reasons for its offerings, the manifold blessings that will come from a humble petition to "Our Father which art in Heaven" and in conclusion, splendidly countered the argument that is often raised that all prayers are not answered, even though they be in a most noble cause.

The men's meeting was in charge of A. S. Mitchell, who has several times been accorded the leadership of the Christian Men's Union, and with Prof. C. W. Kloppe, director of music at the Newark High School, directing a male chorus of about 25 voices. The "rad books" were used, and the men sang with unusual vim and ability. At the close of a prayer by Rev. Mr. Frye, Chairman Mitchell introduced Miss Constance McKorkle, state organizer of the Y. W. C. A., who was accorded the privilege of addressing the men regarding the project that will demand the attention of every loyal Newarkite during the next few days. Miss McKorkle appealed to the civic loyalty of the men present and pleaded for their assistance in the Y. W. C. A. campaign, now assumed by the Board of Trade. She traced, primarily, the entrance of women into the sphere of men's activities, and her success in industrial life, claiming that the men are not anxious that the women should be excluded from such work and that the better plan would be for the permeation of their industrial life with proper home ideals. This is the aim of the Y. W. C. A.—to give to the business life of a city an institutional representation of the churches' creeds. The interest shown by the men in Miss McKorkle's brief talk was very encouraging, and it is certain that those who listened so faithfully to her plea will not be hesitant when approached for a contribution to the $12,000 fund for the promotion and maintenance of the Y. W. C. A.

The members of the Union present transacted an important matter of business, the selection of the appointments of an advisory committee, Messrs. K. I. Dickerson, S. S. Brown and A. C. Herod. These men will confer with the pastors of various churches in these appointments, selecting one active member of each church, a member of the Y. M. C. A. and a member of the Trades and Labor Council for the carrying on of the Christian Men's Union work.

The speaker of the afternoon was introduced by Mr. C. H. Spencer, who was a student at Denison University while Dr. Seasholes was studying there. Mr. Spencer first asked permission to say a few remarks concerning the Y. W. C. A. project, manifesting his genuine interest in the project by appealing for prompt assistance of the committee members when appealed to for a contribution. "If any man here will be able to help, or willing to do anything for this great work, ask him to communicate with me and I will see that he gets something to do," he promised.

In referring to Dr. Seasholes' university career, Mr. Spencer stated that "he excelled in everything he undertook. He was good as a debator. He was good in athletics. I think he was even the star member of the football team. When he left college, every one who knew him predicted a great future for him. I am glad to say that not one of us was disappointed. In those days he was known as plain Charlie Seasholes, now he is Dr. Charles L. Seasholes, but he is the same Charlie Seasholes today, in spite of all his success."

Since leaving Denison University, Dr. Seasholes has attended the New York Theological Seminary, later accepted a pastorate in Texas, which he held with great success for many years, was for thirteen years pastor of the Broad Street church in Philadelphia. For two years Dr. Seasholes has been associated in platform work with William Jennings Bryan and other speakers of national and international reputation, winning the widespread commendation of the press of this country and Canada.

"It seems to me that you are twice as large as you were the last time I was in Newark," said Dr. Seasholes, in his introductory remarks. "If you keep on growing, Zanesville and Columbus will be suburbs of Newark. I think that you men who have been converted in your recent meeting can engage in no better work than making your city grow. Speak a good word for your city and your Board of Trade whenever you get a chance. Fall in line with their aims and help make your city grow."

The speaker then announced that his discussion for the afternoon would be of a "new language," the language that would be spoken on the streets of the New Jerusalem—the "Science of Prayer." "I am going to use the word 'science' in its popular sense," explained the speaker. "It deals with facts and not theories, with the inductive, not the deductive method. The time has come for us, gentlemen, to form, not a book of creeds, but a book of facts." (Continued on Page 4, Col. 4.)

TROUBLE IN SIGHT FOR LEGISLATORS

Columbus, Nov. 18.—That the strongest argument of the defense for a reversal of the decision of the lower court in the conviction of State Senators Isaac E. Huffman of Oxford, and L. R. Andrews, of Ironton, charged with accepting bribes to influence votes in the legislature was the alibi evidence, was stated in the decision of the circuit court of Cuyahoga county in affirming the action, read in the Common Pleas court here today by the clerk.

The decision declared that this evidence, however, was successfully attacked by the state. The case which, as a result of the circuit court's decision, affirms the lower court that the two legislators must serve terms in the penitentiary, Huffman three years and Andrews 9 months, is expected to be appealed at once.

WESTERN FIGHT
STILL IN DOUBT

Los Angeles, Nov. 18.—The first test in court of the presidential vote in Los Angeles county, upon the outcome of which hinges the political complexion of California's delegation to the electoral college, was to come up today in mandamus proceedings before the district court of appeals.

The issue was the vote in 35 precincts, where Roosevelt electors had a plurality of more than 1000 votes, which the Democrats declared should be thrown out because the board of supervisors opened the sealed envelopes containing the tally sheets and corrected them prior to the day set by law for the official count.

ATTACKS CHICAGO BOY.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—A murderous attack on a 5-year-old boy last night has led the police to believe that the "man" who has confessed the murder of three boys in different parts of the country may be in Chicago. The boy was attacked when in an alley down town. His cries brought passers-by to his rescue, but despite pursuit the man escaped without being identified.

BUFFALO, NOV. 18.—Confession to at least three murders and admission that there are "still more" is the startling disclosure contained in postal cards from a modern "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the murderer of 6-year-old Joseph Josephs, received by the police and made public here Sunday.

The murder of the "Josephs" boy, whose entire body, in badly decomposed fragments, was found Saturday afternoon in a cess pool near his home in Lackawanna, N. Y., after a search over a year, is believed by the police to be but one of a long series of similar crimes committed throughout the country by the man who, according to his own confession, has an irresistible mania for killing boys.

The gruesome discovery was made by following the minute instructions contained in the cards.

Young Josephs disappeared in the afternoon of October 12, 1911. It was at first believed he had been drowned, but his father, George Josephs, a prominent merchant of Lackawanna, insisted that the boy had been kidnapped and a country-wide search was instituted.

The case attracted widespread attention, as the father from time to time received anonymous letters warning him to discontinue the search under threat that his son would be murdered. Later developments indicate that the murderer took this means of creating the belief that the boy was still alive.

In one postal card, mailed from Boston, the unknown writer speaks of murdering a boy in Central Park, N. Y. It reads:

"Wednesday night, Dec. 19, 1902, I enticed Michael Riccio Kruck, a newsboy, into the park opposite the entrance to the Arsenal police station. I strangled him and escaped the officer who found him. Three times I have taken life. 12 times have tried, and cannot help it."

Another unsigned card, dated Boston, Mass., Nov. 9, 1912, and written apparently by the same person, says the writer "unfortunately held too much money" that he was a prominent fraternal man of a high degree, "honored and respected."

"My son," it continues, "is married and happy. Can I, under the circumstances, give myself up? I can, of course, but there are still more murders I have not told you. Shall I come?"

The first post card received was postmarked Boston, Mass., September 11, 1912, and was addressed to Superintendent Regan of the Buffalo police department. It read:

"I am sick of trying to fool myself. I have a homicidal mania. I killed Josephs of Lackawanna, N. Y. I strangled him as I did others. Please (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1.)"

PASTOR RUSSELL IS CHALLENGED

Complete Answer to the Query,
"Who Ordained Him?"

WHOLE SUBJECT CLARIFIED.

Clergy and Laity Unscriptural Terms—Pastors, Reverend Fathers, Etc. Ordinations Various—By Catholics, Baptists, Presbyterians, et al.—The Divine Ordination the Only Genuine Article—Without it No One is Authorized to Preach or to Teach the Holy Scriptures—Many Ministers in All Denominations Lack This Real, Divine Authorization or Ordination.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17.—As always, Pastor Russell got the crowds today. We report his discourse on ministerial ordination and titles. Very evidently it was a reply to an attack recently made upon him by a Mr. W. T. Ellis, field editor of "The Continent," and alias the "Religious Rambler." Ellis charged Pastor Russell with being unordained and claimed that his ordination as pastor is fraudulent. The address showed that Pastor Russell fully understands the situation. He fully justified his position before his vast audience and showed up the "rambler" editor in the unenviable light either of being ignorant of the subjects discussed or of attempting to deceive the public. His text was, "Not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised Him from the dead." (Galatians 1, 1). He said:

Evidently the time has come for telling the common people what the Bible teaches respecting clergy and laity, titles of ministers, and ordination to teach and preach. We have previously pointed out that the doctrine of Apostolic Succession started in the second century, A. D. The bishops claimed that they had the same authority that Jesus had originally given exclusively to the Twelve Apostles. On the strength of this claim they appointed and ordained the inferior clergy.

This custom still prevails in what are known as Catholic Churches—Roman, Anglican and Greek. The principle is wholly wrong, unscriptural. According to the Bible, the Church of Christ is not composed of two parts, clergy and laity. Jesus declared, "One is your Master, Christ; and all ye are brethren." Therefore, "Call no man [Master or] Father." St. Paul's writings clearly show that in the early Church the ministers were the servants of the flock, and not of a different, lordly caste. They were of the people; and when chosen by the Ecclesia by the stretching forth of the hand (Greek, cheirotonia), they were recognized as of Divine appointment to the ministry—through the Church.

The customs of centuries were so difficult to throw off that many of the reformers coveted the titles accorded the Catholic clergy. Nor did they care to tell the congregation that its word was supreme in the matter and that its ministers were merely by the grace of God its servants. Others of the reformers, realizing that Jesus and His disciples were not styled Reverend, Doctor, etc., declined to use these titles, preferring to be called pastors. This custom still prevails very generally in Protestant Germany and Scandinavia. My Christian friends and Bible Student associates well know my objection to the title "Reverend," and hence address me as "Pastor"—shepherd. Furthermore, I am the elected pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle congregation, and also of the London Tabernacle congregation. I fail to see any ground for criticism of my course in this respect; nor do I make any attack upon Christian brethren who accept other and unscriptural titles.

Must Pastors Be Ordained?
There is no question that ordination is necessary to the proper holding of the office of pastor. The whole question is: What constitutes an ordination to preach, teach and be a pastor among the people of God?

This question has received a wide variety of answers. The Roman, Anglican and Greek Churches, claiming Apostolic Succession, declare that the authorization to preach must come through their apostle-bishops. For this reason Protestant ministers have not been allowed to enter the pulpits of these denominations—until the Episcopalians a year ago granted this concession. Their charge has been that Protestant ministers are unordained. Of course, if their proposition be correct, I am just as much unordained as all other Protestant ministers—and no more so.

Only since the organization of the Evangelical Alliance (1846) have the different sects of Christendom acknowledged each other and each other's ordinations. Some of them recognize the word ordination in its true light, as meaning simply authorization; and others of less spiritual discernment see merely an outward ceremony. Each denomination does its own ordaining, and makes such ceremonies as it deems proper. If, therefore, the congregation of Christian believers in Brooklyn and the other congregation in London choose to ordain or appoint their Pastor, it is wholly a matter of their own what ceremonies, if any, shall accompany that ordination or appointment. Who can dispute this? No Protestant denomination, surely; for their own ordinations are on this basis.

"Not of Men, Nor by Man."
The entire subject of ordination of ministers of the Gospel seems to have fallen into confusion during the shufflings of the Dark Ages; and few seem to have gotten fully back to the Bible teachings on this subject as on other subjects. St. Paul is particular in emphasizing the fact that he did not receive his commission as preacher and Apostle of Christ from his brother Apostles. He distinctly declares himself an Apostle by Divine authorization. This is the general Scriptural principle underlying Divine Ordination to the ministry of Christ.

Before we proceed with an exposition of the Bible teaching on Divine Ordination, it will not be improper for us to note the practical operation of the different human organizations—of men, and by men merely.

Have all bishops of the Catholic Church, the Anglican Church, and the Greek Church been models of propriety, patterns to the flock? Have all given evidence of Divine authorization to teach and to preach the True Gospel? Their staunchest votaries must admit that many of them have been unworthy; and that from these very ones have proceeded doctrines and practices contrary to the Word of God. Of what value, then, are their ordinations by men and of men? None whatever! On the contrary, the claim that they were Divinely authorized, and guided and inspired to be teachers of the Church, helped forward the errors which they promulgated. By reason of their claimed authority to teach, the people believed them too implicitly and did not sufficiently criticize their utterances and practices in the light of the Holy Scriptures.

How is it today in the various Protestant denominations of Christendom? Are all those who receive sectarian ordination, of men and by men, benefited thereby? Has such ordination kept them free from weaknesses of the flesh to which others were exposed? Has it not, on the other hand, exposed them to greater temptations, because they were pedestaled by the people and thereby injured with pride, haughtiness, etc.? Has such ordination in any denomination preserved its ministers from doctrinal errors more than the people, who did not have a similar ordination of men and by man?

The answer is found in the numbers who have left various denominations and ordinations to go into other denominations and ordinations. It is answered also in the fact that today the great majority of ordained ministers in all denominations entirely repudiate the Bible as a Divine Revelation. Their ordination did not protect them from our modern infidelity, called Higher Criticism. Under its influence they have ceased to be teachers of Bible Christianity, and have become merely essayists, leaders in political and social reform and in humanitarian work. Manifestly their ordination of men and by man did not hold them to the "faith once delivered to the saints." (Jude 3.) It did not assist them to appreciate the Bible as being sufficient that the man of God might be thoroughly furnished unto every good word and work.

Let us consider the matter again, from another standpoint. Did any of these human ordinations of men and by man impart the Holy Spirit or give a mental illumination by which any of these humanly ordained ministers were qualified for preaching and teaching the Lord's people? The answer is, No! As deep spirituality and as deep insight into the teachings of the Scriptures are to be found outside of the pulpit as inside. The ordination, evidently, brought no enlightenment, no gift of the Holy Spirit—the thing above all needed by those who would teach others and expound the Gospel.

Has Served a Bad Purpose.

The ordination of ministers, of men and by man, has been injurious in that it has perpetuated the misconception that the Church is divided into two classes—clergy and laity. The ordained have been injured by being puffed up to suppose themselves of a higher caste than their brethren. The unordained have been injured in that human ordination has helped to befog their minds in respect to the real ordination. Thus the "laity" have been hindered from entering upon the very service which God intended should be their chief aim and object. In the early Church, the Elders were considered merely elder brothers of the Church—not elders in years necessarily, but advanced ones in spiritual things, able to help the brethren properly to understand the Word of God and to attend to all the duties and privileges incident to the Gospel for their preparation for a share in Messiah's Kingdom. The ordination of reverend men to be rulers, and in some cases dictators of a Church, has taken away from the Elders the very services that the Apostle tells them were to be theirs. Instead, it appoints them the empty honor of passing the collection plate and the communion service. St. Paul, in his address to the Elders of the congregation at Ephesus, said, "Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Spirit hath made you overseers [Greek, episcopoi, literally, bishops], to feed the Church of God." (Acts xx, 28.) All of those Elders were under-shepherds, pastors, bishops, overseers. All of them had the commission to feed the flock. All of them had opportunity for teaching instructing the Church.

Divine Ordination to Preach.
All will admit that if preachers are representatives of God, if they speak in His name, they must have some ordination from Him. Whoever has not Divine authority is usurping a holy office and placing himself in antagonism to God. As St. Paul suggests, "No man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron." (Hebrews v, 4.) The Apostle's argument is that the Aaronic priesthood was typical of the higher Priesthood of Jesus—the Melchisedec Priesthood. Aaron and his sons belonged to the tribe specially called to the Divine service; and they were specially called out of that tribe to be the priests. The antitype is Jesus, the High Priest or Head Priest, over the under Priesthood—all the true members of the Church of Christ. This St. Peter shows saying, not to the clerics, but to all the Church, "Ye are a Royal Priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."—1 Peter ii, 9.

As Aaron received an anointing, qualifying him for the typical priesthood, so Jesus received an anointing of the Holy Spirit, qualifying Him to be the Head or Chief Priest over all the Church, the under-priesthood. The begetting of the Holy Spirit came upon Jesus at His baptism. That anointing gave Him authority to preach and teach in the Father's name. There His ministry began, as He tells us Himself in His sermon in the Nazareth synagogue, where He read the opening verses of Isaiah lxi, and declared that their fulfillment had been reached in His own person: "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon Me; because the Lord hath anointed Me to preach good tidings unto the meek."—Luke iv, 17-21.

The Church Anointed to Preach.
While Jesus was with His disciples, He sent them forth to preach in His name, not in the Father's name; for the Father had not yet acknowledged them by giving them the anointing of the Holy Spirit, as we read:—"The Holy Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified." (John vii, 39.) But when Jesus, having finished His ministry and sacrifice, was leaving His disciples He directed them not to preach, but to tarry at Jerusalem "until ye be endued with power from on High."—Luke xxiv, 49.

The promised power from on High came at Pentecost. Immediately they began to preach and to teach; for they had received the Divine anointing, as Jesus had received it at the time of His baptism. This Divine anointing constituted their ordination, their authority from the Father as members of the Body of Christ, the Royal Priesthood, to be His mouthpieces. This Divine anointing came not merely upon the twelve Apostles; but it has all through this Gospel Age constituted the blessed recognition of the Father and of the Son to all who receive it. In the typical picture, Aaron had the holy anointing oil poured upon his head, and it ran down to the skirts of his garment. All the members of His Body thus came under the anointing. So Jesus, the Head of the Church, received the anointing at the beginning of His ministry; and from Him at Pentecost by the Divine appointment it has flowed down over all the members of His Church. Every one receiving the anointing of the Holy Spirit is a qualified ambassador of God to speak in His name. As St. Peter says, every such one is a Royal Priest. St. John refers to this same anointing, saying, "Ye have an unction [anointing] from the Holy One, and ye all know it."

Who Lack Divine Ordination?

From what we have said it must be clear that no one is entitled to speak for the Almighty unless he have this Divine Ordination of the Holy Spirit. Human titles and human ordinations are wholly inadequate to make a real preacher and teacher in the Church of Christ. But the Spirit-begotten are fully authorized to use their every opportunity under all circumstances and conditions. There is no division of these Spirit-begotten ones along the lines of clergy and laity. God never recognized such distinctions and divisions. His ambassadors bear the marks of identification that none others have. They have a knowledge of the real Gospel, and of the real character of God. They are guided by the Holy Spirit, step by step into the deep things of God.

We submit that if a knowledge of the Truth be an indication of an enlightening influence of the Holy Spirit, then not every preacher in the world gives evidence of a Divine Ordination to teach and to speak as a Divine Ambassador. We must put away the foolishness of the Dark Ages, and the misconception that a few mumbled phrases were ever the Divine method of inducing the Royal Priesthood into their service as ministers of the Truth.

The Gospel to Be Preached.

Let us note the Gospel which Jesus was anointed to preach, and which we as His members are anointed to preach—"Fear not! behold we bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be unto all people." "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach good tidings to the meek."

Poor humanity is already under the Curse; and the Gospel Message is "good tidings," that God has provided a way by which we may as a race come out from under the Curse. The Curse is death; and all of our aches and pains and sorrows and tears are directly or indirectly associated with that Curse. The Message of Jesus is good tidings, comfort to all broken-hearted ones, saying, "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain"; there.—Revelation xxi, 4.

HUNDREDS VISIT THE HALBROOKS' FLOWER SHOW

Hundreds of Newark people visited the chrysanthemum show Sunday afternoon at the Paul M. Halbrooks greenhouse, in Cedar street, opposite Cedar Hill cemetery, the last day of the exhibition announced.

The great glass-covered houses are literally filled with blooming plants and shrubs of various kinds, and it was indeed a beautiful sight. The place has been aptly termed "the Pasadena of Newark."

All last week the beautiful chrysanthemums were featured. This flower, the last breath of the departing summer and fall, responds nicely to cultivation. Twenty-seven different varieties were exhibited during the week at the Halbrooks show.

Thirteen of these are known as "exhibition" varieties and are grown almost exclusively for exhibition purposes. The other fourteen varieties are grown for commercial purposes.

The exhibition varieties include large "mums" of red, bronze and other unusual colors and combinations. In the commercial class are found the usual pinks, yellows, purples and delicate tinted blooms in various sizes.

In the chrysanthemum house were great benches piled with these plants in full bloom. Many of the benches were solid banks of yellow, white or tinted blooms.

But the chrysanthemums were not the only feature of this exhibition. The genial proprietor of the place urged his guests to go entirely through the houses and see his pets in various stages of cultivation.

Not the least interesting were the samples of basket bouquets, showing the latest styles in table decorations with various combinations. Roses, carnations, violets, sweet peas, pansies and other flowers were used with good effect. One of the prettiest was the corsage bouquet of white roses and lavender sweet peas. Besides the maidenhair fern used in the bouquet it is backed by a bit of delicate lace paper. This is the colonial style of making up these bouquets and is rapidly coming back into favor.

With these flower baskets were displayed sprays of maidenhair fern dried and prepared before being colored for use in decorating work. Delicate tints in lavender, pink, red and green furnish a variety of colors for most any purpose.

Another interesting department was the forcing house, where the more delicate flowers and herbs are forced. Here the beautiful smilax is grown. The temperature of this house is maintained at about 70 to 75 degrees. Here the beautiful lilacs of the valley will be grown and later the zallias and other flowers in demand at Christmas time.

The greenhouse man plans to have his crop of carnations follow closely upon the last of the chrysanthemums. In a week or more at the Halbrooks houses great beds of carnations will produce thousands of blooms from these plans.

Then there is the rose house, with thousands of hardy plants ready for blooming. These plants are in many varieties.

Then there is the propagating house, where 25,000 "shoots" of geraniums are being started so they will be ready for sale in the spring. Great benches filled with plants used for borders, etc., in bedding work are already far advanced and will be ready long before spring opens up.

Another interesting feature is the bulb cellar, where racks containing thousands of hyacinths, jonquils, tulips and "paper white" narcissus are started on their first lap toward becoming the beautiful flowers so much in demand at Christmas time.

Mr. Halbrooks intends to make his greenhouse an all-year-round exhibition place. The end of the chrysanthemum show does not mean that there is nothing at the place to see. Every week there is something new and Mr. Halbrooks urges Newark afternoons visit throughout the year, particularly on Sunday afternoons, when there are no other places of interest to visit.

MANY MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO CHURCH ROLL

A new spiritual life that seems to be shared by all churches of the city is evident in Newark. The cheerfulness with which the old members enter into the church work is another proof of the new life among us. The two weeks revival services at the Central Church of Christ closed last night with about 200 new members added to the church. The faithfulness and enthusiasm with which all committees worked was very marked in this meeting. The large chorus organized and directed by Guy R. Sutton of Washington, O., surprised even the most expectant with their good work after having spent six weeks in the Tabernacle services. Mr. Sutton's stay of two weeks brought a real blessing to the church, besides giving his time to the work of the chorus he also gives much attention to personal work. One of the encouraging things about the meeting was that a large number of husbands and wives who began the new life together, nearly all of the "brothers-in-law to the church" have come in and the quality of the newcomers has been remarkably high. The preaching was done by Rev. W. D. Ward, whose sermons were of the practical type and presented the spiritual life as applicable to people in all activities of life. In speaking to a reporter this morning Mr. Ward said that a large number of people would yet come into the church immediately following this meeting.

Many Are Received.
About 300 new members were taken into membership at the First Methodist church yesterday, 105 of whom were candidates for baptismal rites. The services were very enthusiastic, the large auditorium being completely filled at both services, and the overflow attendance accommodated by throwing up the partitions between the main auditorium and the Sunday school rooms. The "red song books" were used at both services.

One hundred and one new members were received into the First Presbyterian church Sunday, at which time communion services were held at the morning worship. Mr. J. W. Wolf of Granville sang a solo and a splendid program was rendered by the church choir.

SMILING AND SINGING

I read some sunshine stories advising me to smile, for smiles have charms and glories that make them well worth while. I held a job of clerking at Wax & Bulger's store, and so, while I was working, I smiled and smiled some more. Oh, I was always beaming in that great mart of trade; my fangs were always gleaming, my gums were well displayed. Then Wax came up and muttered (he seemed as mad as sin): "Oh, keep your face a-shuttered! Cut out that ghastly grin! Our customers are blinded by teeth from ear to ear; a home for feeble minded they'll think we're running here." And so I started singing as round the store I sped, and Bulger was flinging steel horn-jacks at my head. "Cut out that silly bawling! When folks come to the store, they hear your caterwauling, and go, to come no more!" And then I tried to whistle, to show how glad I was, and Wax (who's mostly gristle) still soaked me on the jaws. Those people optimistic who write, for toiling throngs, their essay eulogistic of smiles and cheery songs, they have a noble calling, and they sincerely teach, but they would find it galling to practice what they preach.

gistic of smiles and cheery songs, they have a noble calling, and they sincerely teach, but they would find it galling to practice what they preach.

ON SECOND THOUGHT.

Interest in an elderly man's death is often superinduced by curiosity as to whether he left a will.

When an automobile joke is sprung by a "vode-villian" it is easy enough to pick out the man in the audience who owns one. He is the man who laughs at the joke.

Buck Kilby says he is willing to meet the magazines half way. He is willing to admit Edgar Allen Poe was a drunkard if the magazines will let it go at that.

By asking their mother a man can often learn how old his children really are.

Love's other name is "trouble."

What has become of the old-fashioned bride who had her picture taken with her hand on her husband's shoulder?

We make some progress. Twenty-five years ago every popular song had from ten to twenty verses. Now no popular song has more than three verses, and most of them have only two.

Referring to vote getters, how many does a brass band make for the candidate who pays for it? How many does a window lithograph get?

No man is a hero to the family he visits.

Had Good Day's Hunt But Not for Game

Many hunters the present season are having trouble finding preserves on which they may tramp in search of the wary game. Not so with William Cooney and William Hohi, however, as they obtained a permit to hunt on the Wright farm which lies on the Licking-Muskingum county line. Bright and early Monday morning these well known nimrods started forth with eager anticipations of an excellent day's sport. They boarded the interurban and alighted at Black Hand. They inquired for the Wright farm and were told to walk across the country and catch the B. & O. train for Toboso. Arriving there they were directed down a country road for a distance of a mile and a road for a distance of a mile and a half only to find that they were on the wrong scent. Tired and disgusted they inquired the way to the interurban line and took a little hike across the country to a car which would return them safely to Newark reaching here shortly after 4 o'clock. They had a good day's hunting, but not for game, but instead for by-ways, interurban and steam roads.

COMMUNICATED

The present complicated conditions existing between the city and the state fire marshal must be settled peaceably, otherwise a continuous legal battle which would in the end result in dissatisfaction to a number of our citizens and discontent, which should be avoided.

In one view of the perplexing condition would be to make necessary repairs without resorting to the entire destruction of the building, but there is another solution: Let the city carefully take the building down and sell the ground to the highest bidder and with the proceeds of this sale construct a new building.

With the material from the old building properly used, the outlay would be materially reduced and the sale price of the ground pay the entire expense of a building necessary for the city's protection. I would suggest that if this is acceptable to the people, and those having power in our municipal welfare, that the location be established in front of the city prison after securing the removal of the business houses; you would have all the room necessary for every legitimate purpose. The execution of this plan would relieve anxiety and unrest and furnish the city a cheap and substantial home for its officers.

The time for action has come. The fire marshal is clothed with extraordinary power and might hasten events. Inactivity and procrastination are the enemies of progress.

Madam, Is Your Health Worth Saving?

Would you pay 14 cents a day for a very short time to save your health? Then read this carefully.

Your physician will tell you that while walking OUT OF DOORS is the most healthful exercise, walking INDOORS is the most injurious.

Do you realize how much of this injurious walking you do?

In most kitchens you would spend twenty minutes or more gathering and putting away utensils in baking and cooking. You bring all to the table; then carry them back. You can walk a mile easily in twenty minutes. Figure now how far you walk in your kitchen getting three meals a day. The more cupboards and pantries you have, the farther you walk.

But suppose you have in your kitchen a model Hoosier Cabinet which occupies less space than your table, but holds nine-tenths of the things you use in cooking. Your pantry, cupboard and work-table are no longer needed. See how MANY miles you would save.

You realize now why the limited Hoosier Club is filling so rapidly.

Personal Investigation.
An old woman walked into a bank in Inverness, threw down her deposit book, and said she wished to draw all her money. Having got it, she retired to a corner of the room and counted it. She then moved up to the teller, and exclaimed: "Ay, that'll do, ma man; jist pit it back again. I only wanted to see if it was a' richt."—Dundee News.

WILL HAVE PLENTY OF BUSINESS

Number of Matters To Be Brought Before Council Tonight—The City Hall Question.

An ordinance will be introduced at tonight's council meeting authorizing the safety director to sell the old East Newark fire station property between Arden and Gay streets in East Main street. This property has been occupied since the new fire station was completed four or five years ago, except as a storage place for police boats and the old steam fire engine which has been out of commission for a quarter of a century.

The property consists of a two story frame building of little value. The lot should bring a pretty fair price. The safety director is authorized to make the sale and the mayor is authorized to deed the property to the purchaser.

City firemen will ask council to make a change in the present system of giving them "day-off." At present all the firemen get one day off in eight and they ask for one off in six. The letter from State Fire Marshal Zember written to Mayor Swartz, will be submitted to council, the mayor having turned the letter over to Council Clerk Franklin.

The resolution authorizing the service director to destroy the city hall building is still before council, having been laid on the table a month ago. It will come up for action tonight and the matter may be disposed of at tonight's meeting. The state fire marshal has extended the city's time to obey the order to December 1 when he states he will send a gang of men to the city to carry out the order.

Five contractors of Newark, at the request of persons interested in the proposed subway, made an inspection of the old city building condemned last summer by the State Fire Marshal, and according to a report, the men were of the unanimous opinion that it would be almost useless to attempt to repair the building. The contractors made a thorough inspection of the building with a view of ascertaining the feasibility of remodeling the structure. They found the building in such condition that its repair would entail a large expenditure of money and was impractical.

The suggestion of repairing the building came from South Side citizens who feared that its destruction might interfere with the subway program and no one cared to see a new city building take precedence over the subway improvement.

Whether the report from these contractors to the men who employed them will be submitted to council, could not be learned. No such communication had been left with the council clerk up to noon Monday.

RALEIGH, N. C. CHILD

Made Strong and Well by Vinol.
When we tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in our whole stock for making weak, puny ailing children strong, robust and rosy we are only telling you what has been proven by hundreds of mothers.

Mrs. W. O. Strother, Raleigh, N. C., says: "My little girl, Hazel, has been taking Vinol to build her up after a severe spell of sickness. It has done so much good by restoring her appetite and building up her strength that I think Vinol is the finest tonic ever prepared and I am telling everyone about it."

What Vinol did for this little girl it will do for every weak, and ailing child because sickly children need the strengthening codliver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine healthy color. It is pleasant to take and we guarantee that the results will satisfy you—money back if they do not. Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark, Ohio.

SUFFERING OF YEARS IS BUT A DIM MEMORY

Danger That Threatened Miss Alameda M. King is Finally Turned Aside.

The following experience, related by Miss Alameda M. King, of 824 West High Street, Springfield, Ohio, is but one of the many expressions of gratitude that are heard at the Morrow Drug Store, in Springfield, where this remarkable tissue-builder, Via Hepatica, has given relief to hundreds. Miss King said:

"I have had catarrh and stomach trouble nearly all my life. My catarrh started with a bad cold in the head and developed into a chronic condition that affected my nose, throat and bronchial tubes. My catarrh also affected my stomach and destroyed my appetite. I had headaches, dizziness, tired easily, suffered distress after eating and was always more or less constipated and nervous. I slept poorly and got up with a bad taste in my mouth and a coated tongue.

"I had tried many remedies without finding relief until I started taking Via Hepatica. It gave results almost immediately and in a short time my old troubles disappeared. I now feel better than I have for a long time and give all credit to Via Hepatica."

The Hayes party succeeded in bagging 100 birds, 125 rabbits and a number of wild duck, plover, snipe and three wild geese. Mr. Hayes had his game on exhibition at the Schaller and Henry cafes Saturday evening where it was admired by many sportsmen and others who called to view it.

What Course Should this Girl Take?

CORRESPONDENT writes:
"When a young man invites a young lady out to dine with him, the first thing she is asked to partake of is some intoxicating drink. If she refuses, she is told to be a sport and drink. If she does drink, does the young man think less of her?"

What a man thinks of a girl who drinks depends altogether upon the man and his standards of conduct. Generally speaking, a man has less respect for a girl who drinks than for one who doesn't. But there are men, plenty of them, who see no harm or wrong in drinking, and who prefer a girl who will drink with them to one who will not. They look upon the girl who refuses as "goody, goody," as considering herself superior, or at any rate, as one who does not enjoy the pleasures they do. She makes them feel uncomfortable, and so they pass her by for the girl who will be a jolly good fellow with them. So whether a man will think less of a girl for not drinking will depend upon what sort of man he is, what his ideals and beliefs are.

But is this the point to be considered? Aren't there bigger issues at stake than what the man may think of the girl?

If a girl likes a man, what he thinks of her is to be sure a very big thing to her. But after all, is the regard of a man, who urges her to drink, so very valuable? If she will look beyond the mere pleasure she may find in his society for the moment, what in the long run will such companionship mean to her? Where will it take her? What will it give her? Will she have, as a result of it, more or less of the real things that count in life, the lasting joys,—health, serenity, a good character, friends that are worth while, and all the fine, beautiful things that life has to give? Should one care very much for the regard of the kind of man who entices a girl to drink?

And though this personal side is a big one, and to the individual, seemingly the most important, isn't there a still greater question at stake, the great abstract question of right and wrong?

The subject of drinking is one of the moral issues of the day. A girl must decide for herself where she wishes to stand. But she need only use her eyes and look about her to see the harm and misery that comes from drinking to realize whether she ought to throw the influence of her example for or against it. And it seems to me to take a stand to help people up instead of down is a bigger thing than to weakly yield to that which is debasing, simply to win the regard of some one whose regard is scarcely worth having.

And there is still another and darker side to it. Very often the man who wants a girl to drink is urging her to do it from the very worst motives. He has ulterior designs far beyond those of desiring her to be a sport and a good fellow for the moment.

On all counts, I would advise the girl to refuse to drink, and I would further advise her to cut the company of such a man. Unless indeed, she can be loving and sweet, by adhering steadfastly to her principles. Lift him above the low plane upon which he is living, and give him a finer and higher conception of life.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Careless Jessie
And Her
Play Aprons

GRANDMA had given Evelyn a new apron. When grandma was a little girl all children wore aprons. Though she loved grandma, Evelyn was not very pleased with the gift. Evelyn did not like to wear an apron.

"When I was small and lived in the country," daddy said, "little boys and girls both wore aprons."

"With all those nice big pockets you will find your apron very handy. Just think of the things you can keep in them."

"There was little Jessie. Jessie's mamma liked to see her dressed in nice frocks and looking neat. Jessie loved to go out into the garden and play with her brother. Boys' games, as you know, are often of a kind that soil little girls' frocks, so poor Jessie got many a scolding."

"It's the second clean dress I've put on you today," mother said to Jessie.

"Oh, let the child play outdoors all she can," urged kindly grandma. "The romping with the boys will make her strong and healthy."

"I'm sorry," Jessie's mother answered, "but Jessie is so careless. She has so many clothes in the wash every week that Mary complains, and she is such a good servant I'm afraid of her leaving."

"Never mind," grandmother answered, "I'll find a way."

"And she did. In a few days there came a package. It was marked for Jessie, and when opened out it fell two of the dearest aprons."

"One was dark blue and the other was a pretty moss green. On one apron was a pretty picture of a little boy minding sheep, which Jessie knew at once was Little Boy Blue. On the other was a picture of a little girl tending geese. They looked so nice that Jessie quite forgot that they were aprons and was anxious to put one on and go out to play."

"When she went out into the yard," he found the boys busy building a sand fort. They gave her a spade, and in a minute she was playing in the sand pile too. She rolled and tumbled and scratched in the sand without any thought of trouble till her brother warned:

"Hey, there, you'd best be careful! You know what mother said about getting your clothes soiled."

Jessie stood up and brushed off the sand, but on the dark apron dirt did not show.

"And after that there were no more scoldings for Jessie. Her little aprons did not show the dirt for a long time, so that even cross Mary at last said, 'The child is just getting to be no trouble at all.'"

Mr. Henry Bolen, a well known farmer residing in the southwestern part of Madison township, died on Monday morning at 3 o'clock, after suffering since Friday with stomach trouble. Mr. Bolen was a former resident of Newark and followed the occupation of cigar-making while residing here. He is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Viola Farley of west of Utica; three half-brothers, Joseph Evans, who conducts a ton-serial parlor in Church street; Alonzo Evans, of Newark township, employed at the Heisey plant, and William Evans, residing in North Newark, and a half-sister, Mrs. Wesley Priest, of the Mt. Vernon road. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

MRS. MARY M. COLE.
After an illness of over a year's duration, Mrs. Mary M. Cole (nee Armstrong), widow of David Cole, who died in this city about five years ago, passed away at her home in South Fourth street at an early hour Monday morning, surrounded by members of her immediate family and a few friends. The deceased was 63 years of age and one of the most revered women in local Methodist circles, of which church she has been a life-long member, prominently identified with its various social movements and closely associated with its church councils. She is survived by three sons, Clement, Charles and Leroy Cole, all of Newark, and two sisters, Mrs. Rachel Anderson of Newark, and Mrs. R. B. Groves of Franklin township. The funeral services will be held from the Cole home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. L. C. Sparks officiating. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

LUCINDA BAKER.
Miss Lucinda Baker, aged 82 years died last night at the home of a relative in Tuscarawas street, East Newark. Her death was due to the infirmities of old age. Miss Baker has been living in the country near Appleton for several years, but came to Newark a few weeks ago. No funeral arrangements have been made.

LYDIA ELIZABETH JONES.
Lydia Elizabeth Jones was born in Licking county, near Granville, O., where she died Nov. 5, 1912. She had been in failing health some months, then throat and lung troubles developed.
Her earlier life was spent in Granville and there she attended school, but came back to the old home, where she remained a few years. During the greater part of her life her home was in Newark, O. Wishing to spend a short time with relatives, she left home with her sister some time ago, but as her health rapidly failed, she was not able to return.
Her life was singularly pure and free from the many petty sins so common to the majority of mankind. Home-making and many other things, the writer among them, she shared her hospitality. She seemed no sacrifice too great either in the home or elsewhere. During the pastorate of the Rev. E. B. Jones she publicly confessed her faith in her Savior and was received into the Fifth Street Baptist church, Newark, of which she remained a consistent member until death. While her Christian life was not demonstrative, it was deeply religious and many were the favorite portions of scripture she repeated, as well as choice hymns, one of the latter being "Worthy heavenly home is bright and fair." When talking with a peculiar expression added "No pain nor death can enter there."
She was faithful to church and Sunday school and greatly regretted she was unable to attend services as she had been accustomed to do. She frequently spoke most tenderly of her former pastor, the Rev. E. B. Jones, by whom she was baptized, also of her late pastor, the Rev. J. A. Bennett, and her Sunday school teacher as well.

Through her long illness there was no murmur nor complaint, but a constant prayer for release from her physical suffering and a desire to depart and be with Christ.
As members of her immediate family she leaves to mourn, a brother, T. P. Jones, of near Granville, at whose home she died; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Wilson of Winfield, Kansas, and Miss Sarah P. Jones of the home, two sisters being with her in the better land. Mrs. Ann J. Buckland, having died in 1904, and Miss Jennie Jones in 1907.

AMUSEMENTS

The Fatal Wedding.

"The Fatal Wedding" is the attraction at the Auditorium tomorrow, matinee and night. The story is said to be a remarkably interesting one of everyday life, told in a manner that is captivating from the rise of the curtain to its final fall. The dramatic element dominates, while the comedy features introduced are done in a manner to enhance the pleasure of the production without in any way interfering with the progress of the story.

A scenic environment of much beauty and a company of players of acknowledged reputation and merit have been provided. Bargain prices will prevail. Matinee, adults 25c., children 10c.; night, 25c., 25c., 35c. and 50c.

Beverly.

The same identical cast and scenic production which has been seen for long engagements in New York, Chicago and other leading cities is positively guaranteed to appear here with George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly." Every scene and character in the book has been faithfully reproduced on the stage. "Beverly" comes to the Auditorium Saturday, Nov. 23, matinee and evening.

Arrow from Bow Struck LAD IN EYE

Kenneth Kreider, aged 6 years, son of J. A. Kreider, Union street grocer, may lose the sight of one eye as a result of an accident Saturday afternoon when an arrow discharged from a toy bow by Harold Umstott, a playmate, struck the Kreider boy in the eye.

The lads were playing in the field near the Kreider home in Neal avenue, the Umstott boy having a toy bow and arrow which he was using in their games. He discharged the arrow and it flew swiftly toward the Kreider lad and struck him in the eye. The arrow pierced the eyeball, making a dangerous and painful wound.

Dr. D. J. Price, eye specialist, was called in attendance, but has been unable to determine whether the lad will lose the sight of the injured eye or not. The Umstott lad, when he realized the gravity of the accident, was much grieved over the accident.

Trail of the Lonesome Pine.

The eternal triangle, two men and a woman, is completed quickly by Eugene Walter in the first act of his dramatization of John Fox Jr.'s "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Step by step the story develops, and you follow the trail on the stage just as you followed it in the book, with the mountain characters, mounted and dismounted, appearing and reappearing in the vicinity of the Lonesome Pine. June's unconscious wooing of Jack sweeps on upward with the freshness of a mountain breeze, and though grim jealousy threatens to interfere, June's love conquers, even though she leaves the school she is sent to, and returns to the primitive home in the mountains. The play comes to the Auditorium in the near future.

DeViny, operators, arrived from Dayton last night with their moving picture apparatus and illustrations that will be used in the series of four free entertainments at the high school auditorium. The first lecture begins at 8:30 this afternoon and will be repeated tonight at 8:15, tomorrow at 3:30 and 8:15.

For the first time in Newark Kinematograph pictures will be shown. The pictures not only tell the very interesting story of the model factory of the world where nearly 7,000 people are employed but deal in civic improvement and are worth anyone's time. Be early tonight if you want a seat.

DENISON WINS FROM MIAMI

Hamilton, Nov. 18.—Miami University was defeated by Denison Saturday afternoon by a score of 13 to 0. Miami played better all-around football, but lost the game on fumbles. At the very outset of the contest the visitors began to have things their own way. In the first quarter the aggregation from Miami lost the ball twice on Denison's five-yard line. In the second quarter Denison scored a touchdown after three minutes of play in Miami's territory, when Deiter went through for a score, Black kicked goal. At the beginning of the third quarter Miami carried the playing to Denison's territory, but here lost the ball when within a foot of the goal line.

The balance of the quarter was played in the center of the field. In the fourth quarter Miami shoved the ball to Denison's five-yard line by a series of kicks and runs. Here again Miami was not equal to the situation and when a fumble was made Black kicked two goals from the field. Both were from the 30-yard line. Near the finish he tried to kick from the 55-yard line but missed.

DOANE HANDS NEWARK HIGH BITTER DOSE

A single touchdown made by Newark Saturday in the game at Granville against Doane Academy, saved the Newark boys from ignominious defeat. As it was they took the short end of a 22 to 7 score, the lone touchdown and goal which followed being the only points scored by the team which up to a week ago had a clean record.

Hager, Newark's left half, who has starred in every game, was the lad who saved his team from disgrace. He got hold of the ball and made a 90-yard run for a touchdown and a minute or two later kicked goal.

Doane was looked upon as an easy proposition and Newark expected little difficulty in bringing home a victory. The team was sorely disappointed.

CITIES EQUIPPING FIRE DEPARTMENTS WITH MOTOR TRUCKS

The equipment of city fire departments with motor-propelled trucks is being undertaken all over the United States. The vast difference in the cost of maintenance between horse-drawn apparatus and the motor trucks is so great that most cities are rapidly awakening to the realization of the fact that it is economy to install the motor-driven apparatus.

Aside from this distinct advantage in favor of the modern vehicle, there is also the advantage of saving time. A motor truck can travel a given distance in far less time than the horse-drawn trucks. In having the motor truck in just as good condition for another long run immediately afterward, as though it had been standing for hours or days in the fire station.

Recent issues of "Fire and Water Engineering," a journal for firemen, notices have printed telling of the purchase of automobile apparatus for no less than 11 Ohio cities, most of them much smaller than Newark. These cities, with their population, are: Warren, 11,000; Ironton, 13,000; Shelby, less than 5000; Marion, 18,000; Zanesville, 28,000; Marietta, 12,000; East Liverpool, 20,000; Alliance, 15,000; Massillon, 14,000; Youngstown, 79,000; Canton, 53,000.

At Canton, seven motor-driven trucks will soon be installed; at Youngstown, the entire department will be "motorized"; East Liverpool has an appropriation of $33,000 for this work; Alliance will have its entire department equipped with motor driven trucks; Zanesville will soon install two motor trucks.

Dozens of towns over the country, with a population of less than 5000, are installing motor fire trucks. This modern equipment is

WARNER RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS IN GRANVILLE GAME

Ned Warner, high school student and member of the football team, suffered a severe injury during the foot-particularly valuable to the smaller towns where the fire fighting facilities are limited and where one or two trucks are depended upon to cover a large territory. With the motor trucks the firemen are able to get to the scene of the fire quickly and can get back to their stations without loss of time.

This would be one of the advantages which would follow if Newark's fire department was "motorized." Here, five trucks are depended upon for the protection of property. Three of these five trucks are in the extreme ends of town. A blaze of any magnitude in either of the extremities of the city means a long and tiresome run for at least two of the three teams. They arrive at the scene of the blaze jaded and "wind-ed" from the run, for the firemen cannot spare their steeds in a case of this kind. If it should so happen that a second fire broke out in the territory covered by either of these trucks, the teams are in no condition for another long run, and as a result, serious damage might be done before the jaded teams could reach the scene.

A few weeks ago, an error in the transmission of an alarm took the two Central trucks to Front and Indiana streets, when they should have gone to Tenth and Ash streets, where the fire was burning. The firemen on the headquarters apparatus had no means of knowing whether the alarm was properly transmitted to the North End station. They found the real location of the fire by communicating with the operator at the telephone exchange. Then they started with the weary horses on the mile run to Tenth street, to make sure that some of the city's apparatus was on the spot. With motor-driven apparatus, this second lap to the scene of the blaze could have been made easier than the first lap, for the motors would have been "warmed up" and not tired out, as were the horses.

In addition to the advantages mentioned above, is the difference in the cost of upkeep. A recent issue of the Fire and Water Engineering tells of a Texas town whose motor truck cost but 32 cents in September this year. No team could be maintained for much less than $32. Many times the cost is much more.

When a motor truck is lying idle in the fire station there is no expense for grain, hay or bedding. It is only when the machine is in motion that the expense starts. Arriving at the fire, the motor can be stopped, and the driver becomes one of the fire fighters. With a team the driver must stay by his team until he gets some one to relieve him, and the man who sits on the seat and holds the horses, is paid 50 cents per hour for his trouble.

The time is not far distant when Newark must seriously consider the purchase of new apparatus and the sooner this time comes, just that soon will the fire fighting facilities be made more effective.

ball game at Granville Saturday and for a time was unconscious. Monday he was much improved and was able to resume his studies at school.

Warner plays center for his team and during one of the scrimmages Saturday, he suffered an injury to the spine and was rendered unconscious. A physician was called to attend the young man and later he was brought to Newark. Dr. Corkwell, osteopathist, was called and his treatment was such that the lad's recovery was rapid.

NEW WONDERS PLANNED FOR THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915

SERVICE BUILDING, THE FIRST BUILDING TO BE ERECTED BY THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

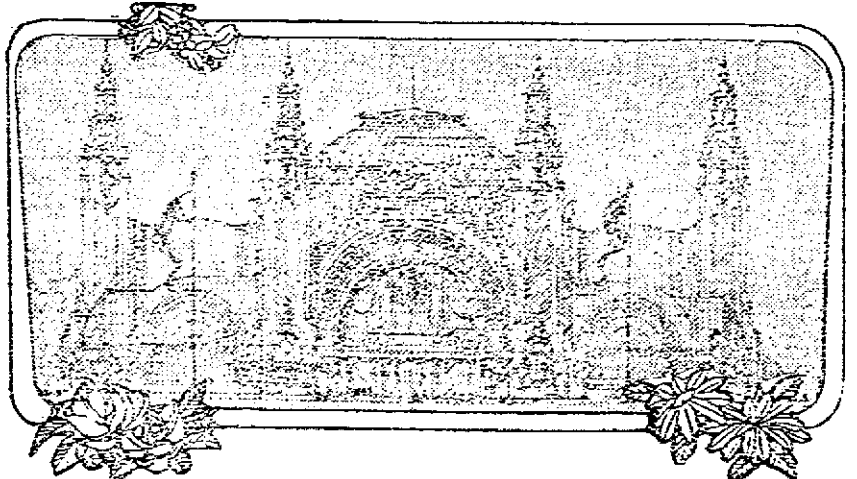

BIDS have been let for the Service Building, the first structure to be erected upon the Panama-Pacific International Exposition site. The structure will be three stories in height and will be occupied by the exposition force during the building of the great fair. It will be 150 feet square with an interior court of 58 by 104 feet. The surrounding grounds will be picturesque with flowers, fountains and statuary. The first floor will be occupied by the auditor, treasurer, railroad exhibits, admissions and concessions, police, information, telegraph and emergency hospital departments; the second floor will be occupied by the architectural, mechanical, electrical and civil engineering departments; the third floor will be used for blue printing, photograph and color studios. It is expected that the building will be completed by the first of the year.

EAST COURT, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

THE great East Court at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is designed for pageantry surpassing the famous Durbar of India. It will constitute a suitable setting for oriental or modern drama upon a colossal scale. From a huge staircase or from the tops of its encircling walls the visitor to this "Court of Joyousness" will be enabled to witness the pageants that will be a feature of the exposition. The main tower of the court will contain a great pipe organ, with echo organs in the smaller towers; within the center of the court will lie a basin containing groupings of classic statuary, dancing figures, fauns, satyrs and nymphs. Electric scaffolds will play upon fountains at night. Tropical shrubs and flowers will contrast with the sterner effect of the colonnades, statuary and fountains of the court. In its architecture the East Court, which will lie among the main group of exhibit palaces, will resemble the oriental phase of the Spanish-Moorish architecture.

HORTICULTURAL BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

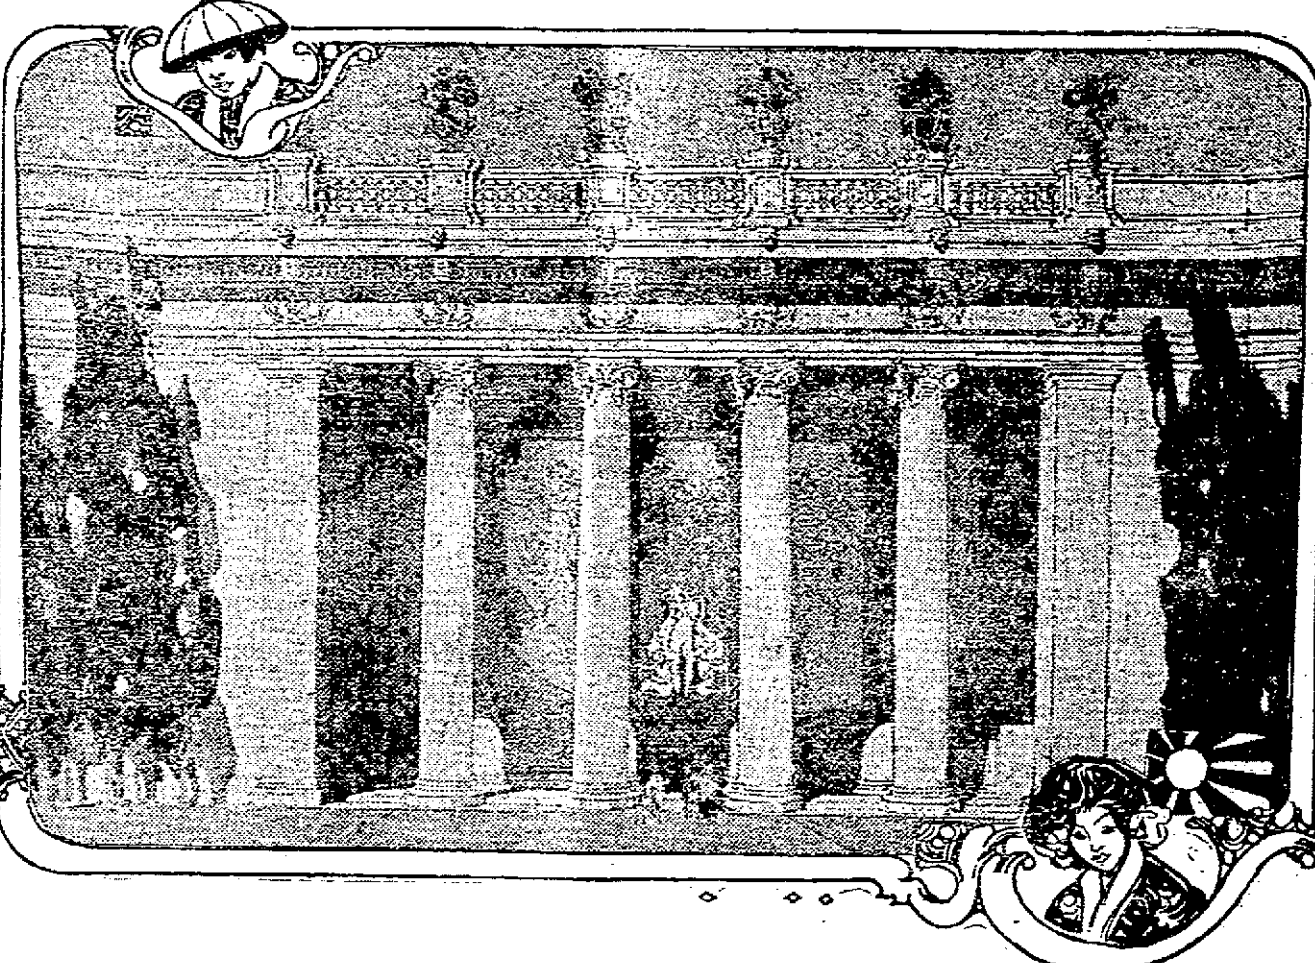

ONE of the most notable buildings at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 will be the great Palace of Horticulture, constructed of glass, covering over five acres, or two city squares in extent, and surrounded by a dome 150 feet high. The Palace of Horticulture will be set in a great tropical garden near the main entrance to the exposition grounds. It will be 622 feet long and its greatest width will be 326 feet. An impressive nave eighty feet high will run the length of the building and paralleling the central nave on either side will be two side aisles fifty feet in height. At the main entrance to the building a huge arch will be adorned with classic bas-reliefs suggestive of the purpose of the structure. The entrance and interior of the Palace of Horticulture will be decorated with trellises upon which flowering vines will be trained. When the exposition opens the Horticultural Palace will appear as it set in the heart of a marvelous garden. Although wood will be used in connection with glass the Palace of Horticulture will be in every sense a glass palace; it will be the largest glass structure ever built. During the night illuminations at the exposition the vast surface of the building will present unusual and beautiful reflections.

President Charles C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Presenting Deed to Japan's Site to Commissioner General Haruki Yamawaki

HIS Imperial Japanese Majesty's Commissioners to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition dedicated Japan's site in the Presidio Reservation on Wednesday, Sept. 18, in the presence of more than 10,000 people. The ceremonies were highly impressive and were deeply appreciated by the representatives of the Japanese Government Commissioners, Haruki Yamawaki, Goichi Takeda and Tashikatsu Katayama. The deed to the site was presented by President Charles C. Moore to Commissioner General Yamawaki, who accepted it in behalf of the Japanese government.

Study of the Court of the Four Seasons, Panama-Pacific International Exposition

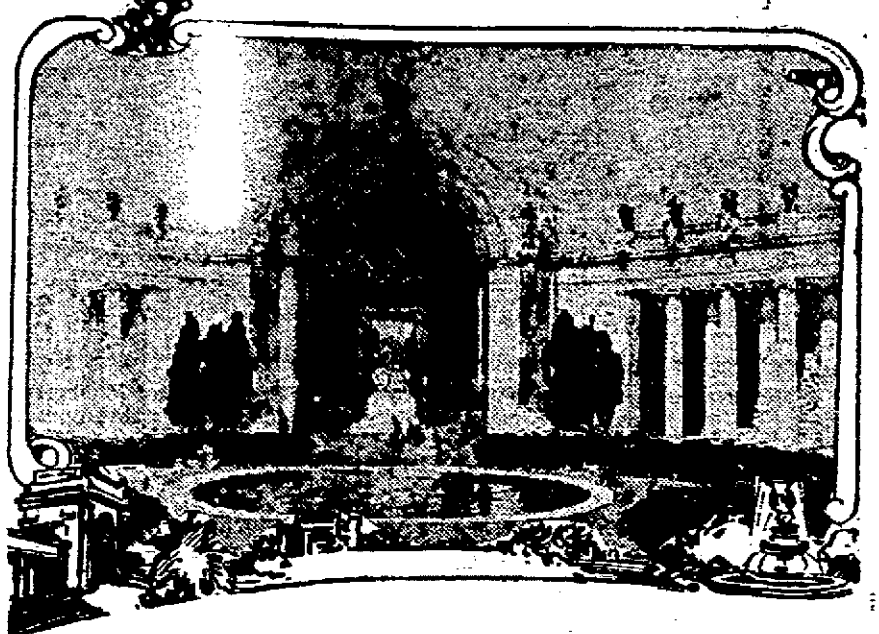

TO the west of the great Court of Honor at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will come the Court of Four Seasons one of the most elaborate and beautiful of the great interior courts that will lie between the huge exhibit palaces of the main group. The walls of the court will be partly formed by the palaces of Liberal Arts and of Education and by the two great wings of the Palace of Agriculture and partly by the classic colonnades and peristyles that will connect these buildings. The Court of Four Seasons, in classic Italian architecture, was designed by Mr. Henry Bacon of New York, designer of the Lincoln Memorial. In harmony with the title of the court there will be set in each of its four corners groups of statuary symbolical of the seasons—Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. The sculpture will be set in niches screened by colonnades. Mural paintings, also suggestive of the seasons, will form the background for the setting. Mr. Jules Guerin, the noted artist, has charge of the color plan. The Court of Four Seasons will be 340 feet square.

Site Selecting Ceremonies of His Imperial Japanese Majesty's Commission to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition

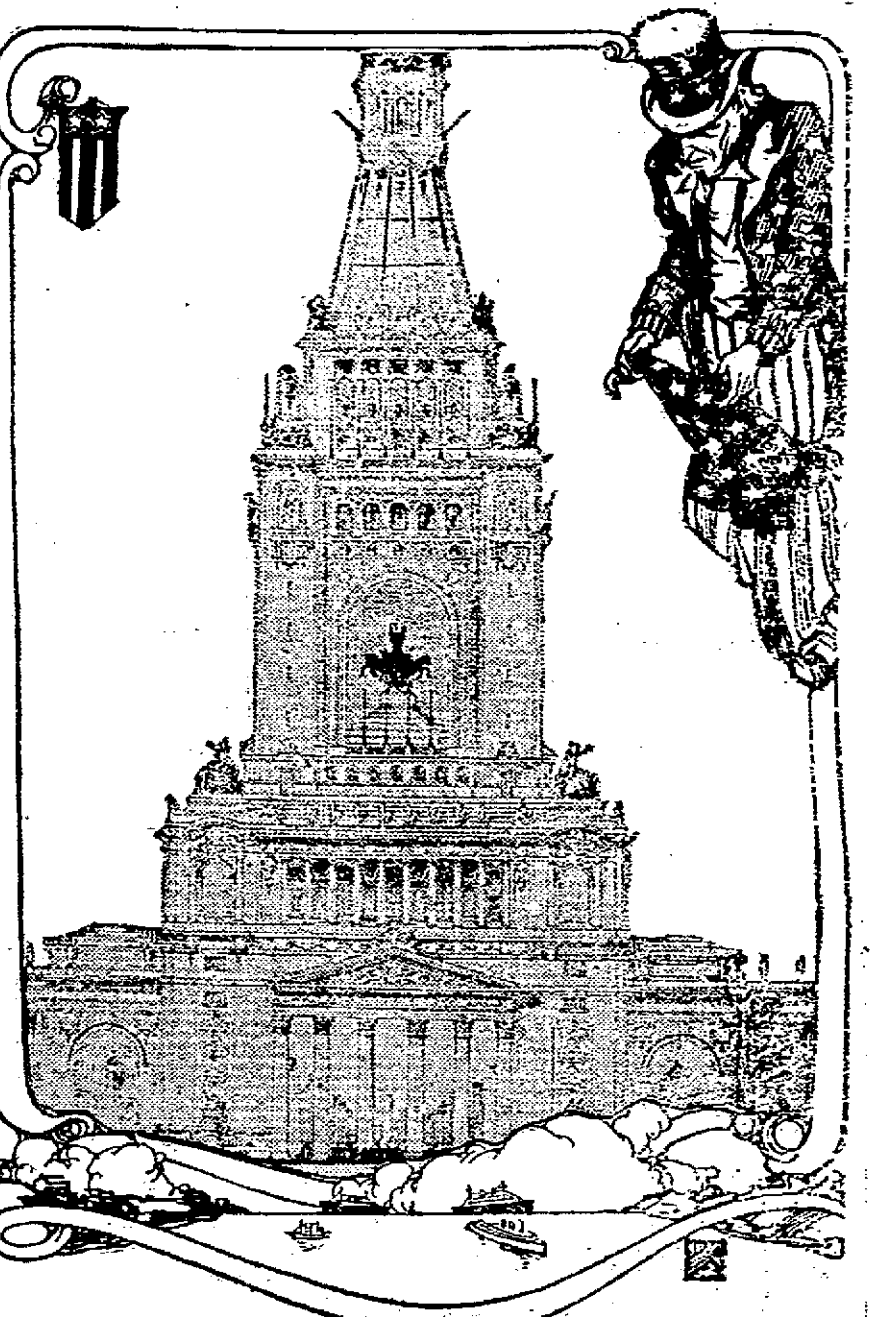

JAPAN was first of the foreign nations to select a site at America's great Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. The extensive area which has been dedicated to the Japanese government display, five acres, will permit the adornment of the grounds surrounding the Palace of Exhibits with wonderful Japanese trees and shrubs, presenting the landscape effects that in Japan have attracted the attention of tourists and nature lovers from all parts of the world. The Palace of Exhibits will cover an acre of ground in the center of this Japanese garden. One million dollars, it was stated by members of the Imperial Japanese Commission, will be expended upon the Japanese government concession.

NICHE IN THE COURT OF THE FOUR SEASONS, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

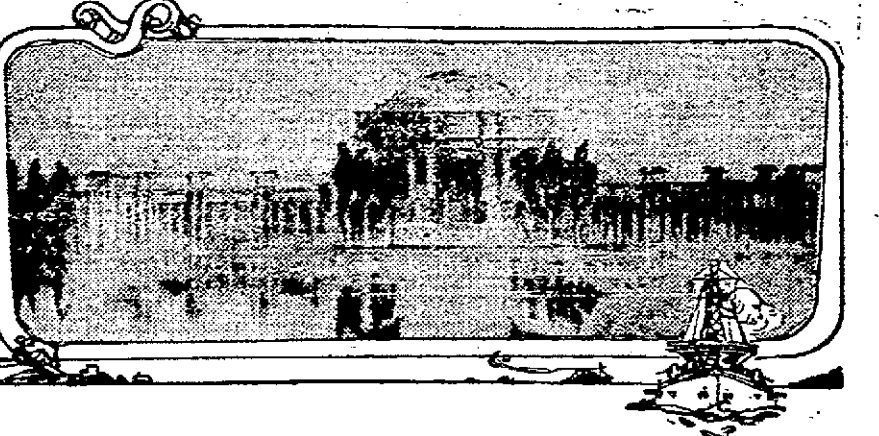

EACH of the four corners of the Court of Four Seasons will be adorned with groups of statuary symbolical of the seasons—Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. The sculpture will be set in niches screened by colonnades, and mural paintings, also suggestive of the seasons, will form the background for the setting. The Court of Four Seasons will be 340 feet square. Mr. Jules Guerin, the noted artist, has charge of the color plan, and the designer of the court is Mr. Henry Bacon of New York.

TOWER OF THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

FROM an architectural viewpoint the dominating feature of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be the huge tower of the Administration building. Rising 375 feet in height and flanked on either side by the domes, towers and minarets of the eight great exhibit palaces, the huge tower will be at all times the most conspicuous feature of the Exposition City. From San Francisco harbor it will appear as the central feature in the great rectangle of exhibit palaces, whose sky line will be 175 feet in height, whose domes will rise 144 feet and whose lesser towers will be 175 feet in height. From afar this central group will appear almost as a single palace, four-fifths of a mile long and 1,200 feet in width; nearer at hand it will be found that the exhibit palaces are interspersed with great open courts, each designed by notable groups of America's foremost architects. The inner courts will express the highest ideal of the architect, the sculptor, the colorist and the landscape gardener. The Exposition palaces will be the loftiest ever constructed; the grouping of huge buildings will give an effect of almost incalculable massiveness and grandeur. At the base of the tower, which will occupy an acre in extent, will be a huge arcade beneath which visitors may enter from the main exposition entrance into the grand Court of Honor. This court, which will be 700 by 900 feet in its greatest dimensions, was designed by McKim, Mead & White, the New York architects, designers of Madison Square Garden, the Boston Public Library, the Agricultural Building at the Chicago Exposition and other notable structures. Before the tower the visitor will see in the Court of Honor a remarkable group of sculpture typifying the spirit of achievement exemplified by the construction of the Panama canal.

FINE ARTS BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

THE Fine Arts Palace will be one of the most beautiful structures in its architecture as well as in its location at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The building, 600 feet in length from north to south, will be semicircular in form and will have as its central motive a low dome arising from a unique base. Forming the foreground will be a great lagoon surrounded on three sides by a sunken garden, which will be designed in romantic Italian architecture. Upon the surface of the great lagoon the quiet classic outlines of the Palace of Fine Arts will be reflected. Here will be assembled the notable paintings of history.

CONFESSES

advertise the fact. Post it or write for information. Come to—(ink smudges make the balance of the card illegible.)

The second postcard, addressed to Chief Gilson of the Lackawanna police, follows:

"Boston, Mass., Sept. 17, 1912. If you only knew the remorse in my heart on account of the murders I have committed as the result of my homicidal mania, even you and George Josephs would pity me. I am writing this, just getting over another drunk to try to forget the ones I killed, but, like Banquo's ghost, it will not down. I am fast going to pieces mentally and spiritually."

The next card, also from Boston, postmarked October 23, 1912, read: "I am so sick of this business that I shall go to Buffalo next Sunday and will call you on the telephone. My brain is worse and all I think of is murder, and I love to kill. Shall kill some kid before I leave here Sunday."

Another card dated October 30, 1912, apparently written as a follow to the one mailed on October 23, was as follows:

"Joseph Josephs will be found in the bottom of outhouse back of saloon near Doyle's on Ridge Road. A drunk-crazed brain done the deed and remorse and sorrow for the parents is bringing the results which will soon come to an end. The demon whisky will then have one more victim, making four in all. The next morning I tried to kill a little neway, an Italian, who always stands in the morning at Seneca street. The boy knows me well. Ask him. I wish to pay the price, but will not let the Boston police get me for my family's sake."

The last card was dated New York Nov. 14, 1912, and stated that the writer expected to be in Buffalo Wednesday, the 13th, and would call at the police office at 11 a. m., "so shall except you to be in your office."

It was signed "R. Dennison" and was the only card of the series to bear a signature. The writer did not keep the appointment. The police and federal authorities in Boston and New York have been asked to assist in the attempt to locate the murderer.

Handwriting experts last night stated that the signature to the postcard was "R. Deumessori," not "Dennison," as originally believed. The word is a combination of Latin words meaning "God's reapers."

Early in the present year, the father of the dead had appealed to the newspapers of the country to assist in the effort to find his son. Mr. Josephs was of the opinion that the little one was kidnapped. He sent to the newspapers over the country circulars containing descriptions of Joseph Jr., offering $1,000 reward for information which would lead to his recovery.

One of these circulars was received by the Advocate at the time a description of the missing boy was printed. The circular wound up by stating that the child's mother was distracted with grief and pleaded for as much publicity as possible.

BELIEVED TO BE INSANE SON OF A WEALTHY FAMILY

New York, Nov. 18.—Is was asserted Sunday by officers of the New York Police department that the confessed murderer of little Joseph Josephs, of Lackawanna, N. Y., who also admits being the fiend who, December 10, 1902, strangled ten-year-old Michael Kruck in Central Park, is an insane son of a well-known New York family.

At the time of the murder here in New York Detectives McCafferty and Price ascertained that a certain man, then living on the West Side, was the most likely person to have lured the innocent little boy to his death. They were developing several clues in their investigation and had learned that the family of the suspected had rallied to his defense. The "skeleton in the closet" had been carried away.

Then, it was said at police headquarters Sunday, the first definite clue regarding this man's guilt was received. It was in the form of a letter.

"This letter, strange to relate, was dated Buffalo, the city to which this present series of postcards is being directed," said the official at police headquarters. "It told that the murderer of little Michael Kruck was not the Greek flower peddler or jealous neighbor, as McCafferty and Price were quoted in the newspapers as suspecting, but a man who, when insane from drink, was possessed of an unconquerable desire to kill young boys."

"The inspector in charge of the detective bureau at that time at once assigned certain men to run down the writer of this letter. They were making good progress when suddenly all activity in the case seemed to cease and McCafferty and Price were put on other work."

"The murder soon was classed as an unsolved mystery, and now, with the renewal of confessions by letter, I won't be at all surprised if relatives again step in and keep the man from giving himself up."

McCafferty, who later was promoted to inspector in charge of the detective bureau, is dead. Price, at present, has charge of the Bronx Department. He said yesterday that he has valuable information regarding the Kruck murder and intends to turn it over to his superiors. Beyond this he refused to talk on the case. The police at once renewed activity in the matter, however, and began a series of inquiries.

One of the detectives sent out by Lieutenant Mulligan of the West Side District, located the present home of the Kruck family at No. 120 West Sixty-first street. All facts regarding the murder of the young boy were detailed to him.

Mrs. Kruck has held special services every Saturday night for the healing of vengeance upon the murderer of her son. She said Sunday that at last her appeal had been heard.

Fiend Sends Another

Letter of Surrender

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The police of Lackawanna yesterday received another letter from the confessed murderer of little Joseph Josephs, whose decomposed body was taken from a cesspool back of a saloon on the Ridge road yesterday.

Like some of the other letters and postcards received by the police and George Josephs, father of the murdered boy, this one asserts that the writer intends to surrender.

The letter is dated Friday, November 15, and was mailed in Boston Saturday morning. It is unsigned, and the writer asserts his intention of giving himself up to the Lackawanna police Wednesday. The police place no credence in the promise of the writer to appear voluntarily, and every effort is being made through police and federal channels to capture him. Mr. Josephs also received ten days ago an unsigned post card in the same handwriting, giving revolting details of the murder of his son. All letters in the hands of the police undoubtedly were written by the same man, although some were neatly penned, while others were mere scrawls, in disjointed sentences. In the letter the writer invariably refers to being drunk.

Chief Gilson yesterday secured from the Lackawanna Steel company the signatures of men employed there during October and November, 1911, at the time the Josephs boy disappeared. An expert will compare them with the handwriting of the unsigned letters coming from Boston and New York.

The funeral of the Josephs boy will be held at Lackawanna today. The public schools will be dismissed for the afternoon and business houses of the suburb will close during the hour of the funeral. The town is deeply stirred by the revelation of the crime and steps are being taken to protect the murderer if he should give himself up, as he has promised.

RECOVERS GUN TAKEN ALONG BY JAIL BREAKER

Deputy Sheriff Taylor Secures Gun From the Columbus Authorities With Which Negro Was Killed.

Deputy Sheriff George R. Taylor has received from Columbus the Colt automatic revolver which was stolen from him by the negro, George Taylor in the recent jail delivery and with which the escaped prisoner accidentally shot and killed himself in a room in a Columbus boarding house.

The weapon is a special make of the Colt's automatic called a "3-80" and is capable of firing three shots with lightning like rapidity. The gun was presented to the deputy by his son, John Taylor, who is in the employ of the Remington Arms Co.

The deputy sheriff now owns two heavy revolvers, his son having presented him with a handsome Colt's 38 after the theft of the automatic. This morning, with the charges of the weapon drawn, Mr. Taylor demonstrated to an Advocate reporter the manner in which it is probable that Johnson killed himself.

The deputy showed how it was possible for a man who was unused to handling such a weapon to slip the safety catch without realizing what he had done. It is his opinion that Johnson did this in an attempt to oil the revolver and after having done so pressed the trigger with a force sufficient to pull it and sent the heavy bullet plunging into his neck.

QUIT CALOMEL!

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect, almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long sought for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that constructive of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

COURT NEWS

Juvenile Court. Apprehended on board a north-bound B. & O. train, leaving Newark at 1:50 o'clock Monday afternoon, Clarence E. Harris, of this city, was taken from the train by Probation Officer James Sheridan and brought to the juvenile court for hearing on a charge of non-support of his two minor sons, Clyde and Clinton Harris. The affidavit was filed by Albert Wood, father-in-law of the defendant, who declared that for the past six months the children have been without parental assistance. Probation Officer Sheridan was advised, shortly after the filing of the affidavit, that Harris was contemplating leaving the city, although he knew nothing of any proposed action against him. Harris did not board the train at the local B. & O. station, but as Sheridan watched it start from the depot he also saw the defendant approach the B. & O. crossing at East Main street and step aboard. Sheridan followed suit, placing his man under arrest, and had Conductor James Moore signal for the stopping of the train.

Case Continued. The case of Ohio vs. Merrill M. Edwards, the Utica man who is charged with contributing to the delinquency of Amy Pierce, which was set for hearing before Judge Hunter in juvenile court Monday morning, has been continued until Nov. 25, at the request of the defense.

Attorney L. C. Russell, who represents Edwards, appeared in court this morning and was granted a continuance.

Edwards is still confined in the county jail, bond not having been furnished.

Dismissed Petition. The divorce matter of Emily Hauk vs. Jonathan Hauk, which has been held up for several weeks by Judge Hunter of the probate court, has been decided. The court held that the petition of the plaintiff was not supported by the evidence and that she was not entitled to a divorce, and dismissed the petition. Mrs. Hauk brought her action for divorce on the grounds of gross neglect of duty.

The trial of the case of Samuel F. Moore et al. vs. Allen B. Gregg, et al., was begun Monday afternoon to the court and jury. In this case the plaintiffs bring suit to set aside the will of the late Finney Haas, a former resident near Utica, this county. The plaintiffs claim that at the time of the making of the will the testator did not have sufficient mental capacity to make a lawful disposition of his property and asks that the jury find that it is not his valid will.

Seeks a Divorce. Marie L. Brennan, by her attorneys, Smythe and Smythe, has filed a petition for divorce from Harold F. Brennan, alleging that on numerous occasions he has assaulted her, struck her, called her hard names and accused her of undue intimacy with other men.

The petition recites that the parties were married in January, 1908, and that they have one child, Angela, aged three years. The aggressions charged by the plaintiff extend over a period of about a year.

Mrs. Brennan states that her husband is the manager of the Avery-Loeb company at a salary of $125 per month, that he owns two automobiles and personal property of considerable value. She says that he owns stock in several corporations and is interested in several pieces of real estate, besides owning the house in North Fourth street in which they live.

Mrs. Brennan prays divorce and alimony and the custody of the child.

In spite of the theory that all's well that ends well, it is just as well to begin right.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair, Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff, or heavy and rank smelling with excess of oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair, and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for the treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

STRUCK WOMAN OVER THE HEAD WITH A SKILLET

Negro Cook at Construction Camp
Assaults Mrs. Julia Poltinger.
Placed in Jail.

Joseph Nolan, 45, negro cook at the construction camp of the Wilson Construction Company, south of the city, in a fit of jealousy Sunday afternoon, used a skillet as a weapon and struck Mrs. Julia Poltinger, 44, on the side of the head, causing a dangerous wound.

According to the story told at the camp, Nolan feared that Mrs. Poltinger was about to displace him as cook for the road building gang. Shortly after the assault Deputy Sheriff George R. Taylor arrived at the camp in an automobile, placed Nolan under arrest and lodged him in the county jail, where he is held to await the outcome of the woman's injuries.

The story related to the Advocate is to the effect that Mrs. Poltinger was formerly cook at the Wilson camp. She also owns one of the teams used in the road work. She has not been staying at the camp since she quit the job as cook, but Sunday she visited the place. She was seated in the cook tent when the assault occurred.

According to eye-witnesses to the affair, Mrs. Poltinger had not spoken a word to Nolan and had been in the tent but a short time, when Nolan, without a word, picked up the skillet and struck the woman above the ear.

Before he could repeat the blow, bystanders interfered and the woman was carried to a place of safety. Dr. D. M. Smith was called and cared for the woman's injuries. Saturday was payday for the workmen on the road contract and Nolan, it is alleged, was drunk. No charge has been preferred against Nolan, but he will probably be taken before a justice of the peace on a charge of assault.

After the assault men at the camp called the Newark police department for an officer to arrest Nolan. The police department refused to take action, saying the case was out of their jurisdiction and referred the men to the sheriff. Deputy Taylor secured an automobile and hurried to the camp, where he arrested the assailant.

YOUNG GIRL BURNED WITH LYE WATER

Miss Ruth Myers, age 16, daughter of Charles Myers of North Williams street, was severely burned about the face and arms Monday morning when a part of the contents of a jar of strong lye water splashed up in her face.

Miss Myers was assisting with the week's laundry work. She attempted to lift the jar of lye water when it slipped and the contents splashed out. Her arms and face were saturated with the liquid and the flesh was badly burned. Fortunately none entered her eyes. Dr. Barker was called and dressed the burns. No serious results are anticipated.

BOTTLE COMPANY'S DIRECTORS TO MEET TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The annual meeting of the American Bottle Company's board of directors will be held in this city tomorrow afternoon and it is expected that a number of proposed improvements in the local plant will be considered. Just what these will entail has not yet been made public, but it is understood that a full attendance of the board has been especially urged, in order that matters pertaining to the future policy of the plant may be formulated. The success of the election from a Democratic standpoint has been a source of extensive comment in industrial circles and will no doubt be considered in the preparations of the American Bottle Company officials for accommodating their trade for the next four years.

A NEW BIBLE IS ISSUED BY THE BAPTISTS

Members of the local Baptist church are interested in the announcement that their denominational publication society has issued a new Bible, radically different from the King James and Revised versions. It is essentially a "Baptist Bible" and gives to words in the old and new testament the interpretation conforming to the Baptist doctrines. Several copies have been ordered by Newarkites and will no doubt be adopted in Baptist churches throughout the country for official use in the churches during the next few weeks.

In that portion of the New Testament where the conversation of the Saviour is described, in place of using the Greek "baptize" the literal translation "immerse" is used, so as to conform with the Baptist teachings that Christ went down into the water for the baptism.

All the archaic forms of the King James and Revised versions have been completely eliminated. The new Bible is called the "Improved Version" and is distinctly different from the old Scriptures. Practically no other church but the Baptists will be able to use it, because it interprets the Scriptures to mean solely what the Baptist church teaches.

THE BIRTHDAY CALENDAR.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY.

Some accident threatens you and some undesirable citizen will try to do you injury. You will be tempted to enjoy the envy or jealousy of others, but later they will have the power to annoy you.

Those born today will be witty and well liked, and forcible restraint against their natural fondness for glitter and show will only increase the temptation. Their lesson will be that frivolity is a toy for youth and those who play too long forfeit the reality of life.

CLEANING GUN; SHOT IN THIGH

As the result of the accidental discharge of a 22-calibre rifle, which he was cleaning after a successful hunting trip, James Hartman, aged fifteen years, is now confined to his home at 255 Boylston street, with a bullet in his left thigh. The young man spent Saturday hunting in the eastern part of the township, returning home about 4:30. He took the gun to the kitchen of his home and began to repair its condition. His father, George Hartman, heard a shot followed by the cries of his son, and when he reached him, his trousers were well saturated with blood and the young man in a fainting condition. Temporary relief was given, awaiting the arrival of Dr. Harry H. Postle, who probed and found the bullet, leaving the young man in a very restful condition.

Real Financier.

Robbing Peter to pay Paul is an old expedient, but the ingenuity of a man in Washington improved even on that simple method. He stole his landlord's watch and then sold it to pay the rent. Such resourcefulness ought soon to put him in the frenzied-finance class.
